

392-394

EUGENIO

392 AD

Theodosius I abolished Olympic games & the use of Olympiads was abandoned in favor of Roman Indiction

392

The story of Princess GARAHA, ARIMIR's mother, shows that as late as 392 regular trade traffic between Romania and Transdanubian Goltai was possible.

St. Jerome revised the Latin version of the New Testament at Rome.

St CHRYSOSTOM is patriarch of Constantinople.

392 AD

---

Emperor Theodosius I abolished
Olympic Games.

The use of Olympics was abandoned in favor of Roman Induction

May 392

---

Valentinian II was killed by ARBOGAST, his army commander. Thus the house of Valentinian came to an end

~~42~~ 392

Promotus's successor was STILICHO, who defeated and executed Alaric in 392 but on orders from the emperor
let him go

392

Battle of MARITSA
Stilicho defeated Alaric, also Thrasalun Louisa (395)
also Platan of PHOLOE in Ellis and finally Verona (402). <sup>Cestrophes</sup>
All were near Cestrophes for Alaric and his Goths
Alaric was set free again
every time.

392-450

Empress GALLA PLACIDIA, daughter of Theodosius I
she was married to ATAULF and second to CONSTANTIUS
Her son was VALENTINIAN III

392

1912 Dates J-BK

Valentinian II was murdered
by ARBOGASTES

392

Theodosius became emperor of both East and West.

AD 392

---

Christianity was adopted as the official religion of the Byzantine Empire and churches began to proliferate.

392

A Cession of Theodosius the Great
As Emperor of East & West (413-45AD), the last ruler of a united Empire